

ISLANDS IN THE STREAM SERIES

Post Key West Update

Fourteen contenders completed at least two races necessary to remain qualified for the Inaugural SORC Islands in the Stream Series, with a total of eight points separating the top from the bottom. With four points separating the top eight boats, it really is anybody's series to win as we head into the fourth and final race of the series, the Inaugural Miami to Havana Race. The entry deadline for the Havana Race is still two days away. For those of you on this list but not yet on the entry list for Havana, you have already demonstrated the ability to move fast. Hustle up, or miss the fiesta.
